In re: Namenda Indirect Purchaser Antitrust Litigation,
C.A. 15-cv-06549-CL-RHL

Dear Judge McMahon,

I write on behalf of Plaintiff and Class counsel to request that the Court set a trial date for this matter.

On December 20, 2021, by Memo Endorsement you indicated “[w]e did not get assigned a trial date for the first quarter, 2022. ECF 837. As we have recently informed the Court in the Settlement Status Report (ECF: 841), there is agreement to mediate this case before Judge Faith Hochberg (retired) on March 29, 2022. Because of her schedule, we will mediate for one day. While we remain cautiously optimistic that there might be resolution, we are also clear eyed that often mediations are unsuccessful or are extended. We are also of the belief that the mediation process would be assisted by the setting of a firm trial date. In order to arrange schedules for all counsel, experts, and other witnesses in the event that mediation is not successful on March 29th, we request an order for trial to commence on a date certain during September 2022.

Respectfully submitted,

Marvin A. Miller
